Song Before Breakfast

Hopeful each morning I arise
And splash the cobwebs from my eyes.
I brush my teeth and scrape my chin
And bravely at the mirror grin.
Sternly I force myself to say,
Huzza! huzza! another day!
Oh happy me! oh luck I!
Another chance with life to vie!
Another golden opportunity
To rise and shine in this community!
Another target for my aim!
Another whack at wealth and fame!
Almost I feel within me stir
A budding force of character.
Who knows, indeed, but what I might
Perhaps have altered overnight?
Today may be the day, who knows,
That sees me triumph o'er my foes:
Gluttony, simony, and sloth,
And drawing on the tablecloth;
Perjury, arson, envy, pride,
And renting tales of homicide;
Barratry, avarice and wrath
And blowing bubbles in the bath.
The differences this day may bring!
Perhaps I'll work like anything;
I'll travel to my tasks on foot,
And in the bank the carfare put,
And buy a haircut when I need it,
And if I get a letter, read it,
And every eve improve myself
With Shakespeare or the Five Foot Shelf.
The things I want to do, I won't,
And only do the things I don't.
What lordly aspirations dawn
The while I draw my trousers on!
Oh beamish morning, big with hope
And noble tasks with which to cope,
If I should fail you, do not sorrow;
I'll be a better man tomorrow.

Brookline High School Mediation

Are you having a conflict: teasing, threats, rumors, or fights? Mediation is a chance for you to sit face to face and talk, uninterrupted, so each side of the dispute is heard. After the problem is defined, solutions are created and then evaluated When an agreement is reached, it is written and signed. A student mediator is one of your peers who has been trained to conduct the mediation meeting. A team of two student mediators make sure the mediation session is helpful and fair There are 37 mediators, staff and student, at the high school.
Coordinator: Jane Lorch

Rules:
1. Mediation is voluntary.
2. Everything said during a mediation is confidential.
3. In mediation, students take turns talking and no one can interrupt.
4. Student mediators do not take sides.

New PSAT

By Charlotte Houghteling
SAGAMORE STAFF

The Educational Testing Service, the corporation which runs all the Scholastic Aptitude Tests, has deemed it necessary to add an additional supplement to the Practice SATs or PSATs. This new section deals with writing, but will be multiple choice like the Math and Verbal segments.

The goal of the test is to emphasize a student's background knowledge as well as good test taking skills. It i

Since writing is one of

of making sure that the PSA give everyone an equal oppo tunity.

This new writing section was originally planned for 1999, but has been pushed up to October 1997, just in time for this year's Sophomores. The reason for this rush is accusations from the Department of Education's office of Civil Rights that the PSATs discriminate against women. This applies only only to their use by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation to choose its contestants. No real proof of this has been found, but ETS is trying to cater more to the needs of female test takers, to make the exam an even measure of all students' skills.

An SAT subject test (SAT II) already exists for writing. It is from this achievement test that ETS is taking their type of multiple choice questions. The questions will include: word and grammar usage, word meaning, and capability to express ideas.

The new Practice Scholastic Aptitude of 1997 will now include verbal reasoning, reading, math, and writing skills. Whether or not the test will be longer because of this is unclear.

Silber, Board Push for Senior Testing

enovation Coming to Life

By Carleton Ashley
SAGAMORE CONTRIBUTOR

It seems that the renovation is far away, but is actually closer that it appears. Starting to feel the effects of the renovation, the library recently moved and the main office is also planning a move.

The main office, currently located on the front side of the school, above the library, is planning a temporary move to room 205. They plan to move immediately after Christmas vacation and hope to be fully moved by the second week back. Room 205 seems like an adequate space for an office, as it was used as a home economics room.

Secretary Carol Piatelli reflects, "It's a sad thing to loose a headmaster's office because there is such tradition, but some things you have to do."

Once the renovation is complete, the new office will be located in room 101. The new office will have such amenities as a climate control system.

Although workers in the main office may be cramped in room 205, it seems worthwhile as they will eventually be comfortable in their new office.

A Great Year for Cadence

(when we actually came out)

The Cadence Staff. One out of three people in this picture never showed up again.

DAVID "PORTER" MILLER
KENNETH FAN

Despite budgetary constraints, Cadence had an excellent year. We filled our ranks with eager freshman, crammed our pages with interesting, controversial, snide, and humorous features. Fashion, slang, and embarrassing pictures of Dr. Bob's wife all found their way into our issues.

Cadence continued to set Brookline High's standard for quality reporting, writing, photos, and design. And despite threats, never actually got sued (as of 1 6 97) We are confident that next year's staff will continue to uphold our standard of quality.

The departing seniors would like to thank Cadence for the good times, the bad times, the cooperation, the arguments, the mud-wrestling, and for a slogan to keep all our lives: No Bias. No Bore. No Bull.

BHS SYMPHONIC BAND

Amnesty International

Amnesty International is a worldwide human rights organization working to free people imprisoned for their beliefs, color, ethnic origin, sex, religion or language, provided they have neither used nor advocated violence. The group at BHS writes letters to raise awareness and pressures government officials through attendance at vigils and demonstrations. We also organize educational seminars.

Asian Culture Club

The Asian Culture Club consists of students who want to make a difference in the Asian community surrounding BHS. Members of the club are all good friends who collaborate in raising money by selling candy and having bake sales so we can participate in many activities, such as dining out, ice skating, and playing sports with other Asian clubs in the Boston area.

Badminton Club

The Badminton Club is a co-ed, intramural organization with an international flavor that meets Monday H Block, and Thursday X Block in the Shluntz gym. We have players of varying ability and welcome beginners. Badminton is a fast paced, non-violent sport, and a great way to stay in shape and relieve stress.

Black Awareness Club
The Black Awareness Club is dedicated to providing a sense of unity among the African American students at BHS. We raise awareness of the presence of African American students in the broader community by enhancing the BHS community through our culture.

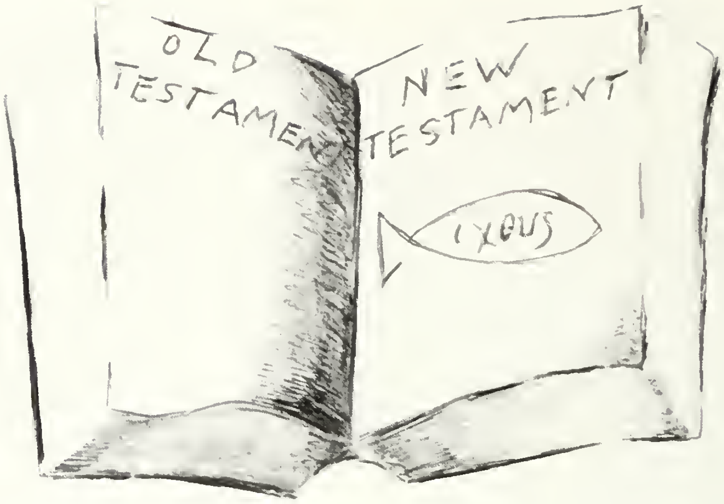
Gay-Straight Alliance
The Gay-Straight Alliance seeks to represent all members of the BHS community who are interested in learning about, participating in and discussing issues relating to sexual orientation. Its purpose is to provide a safe, open forum for conversation and inquiry about issues such as relationships, homophobia, and political and social awareness.



Icthus/Youth Alive Bible Club

Icthus/Youth Alive Bible Club is a gathering of students without regard to race, color, or creed. We are open to all, and exclusive to none. We provide an opportunity for high school students to get together on a regular basis, within the confines of the campus, to study the Bible and pray for one another, fellow students, teachers, & administrators.

Investment Club

The purpose of our club is to invest money in stocks proposed by members of the club, and to learn about investing through a series of guest speakers from brokerage houses. Through these experiences, we learn a lot about the financial and economic aspects of our society.

The Latin Club

Salve! The Latin Club is a student organization whose goals are to promote the study of the classics and to appreciate classical culture in our society. We travel to New York or Italy to admire the architecture; we eat Italian food from time to time. We participate in several fun events, like chariot races, catapult contests, disc throws, and so on. All are welcome.

Math Team

The Math Team is a self-selected group of students who enjoy the challenge of joint exploration, cooperative learning and friendly competition. A team of ten (including some students from each grade) competes monthly with Boston Latin, Newton North, Newton South, Maimonides and Brighton High. In addition, there is a monthly mail-in thirty-minute competition for all to try. Fun, fun, and more fun!!!

The Media Research Club

The purpose of this club is to provide the student community with access to quality film (Lawrence Of Arabia, Das Boot, Metropolis, etc.) and other media. Our goal is to provide an alternative to the violent mass media/Hollywood culture that permeates our society.

The purpose of our club is to get people interested in Paintball so they can discover how much fun it is. We aim to help the sport receive more recognition. We've asked a lot of people about the sport, and lots (almost all) have heard of it, although very few know what it's really about. Paintball is one of the funniest sports.

The Philosophy Club

As the name suggests it, the Philosophy Club is an association of young lovers of truth; this is a group which discusses problems that are far beyond having one answer -- we are not after finding definite answers but after finding interesting possible answers. We compete in the WSS League where we participate in a series of meets held at participating schools. There are five meets per year, and three events per meet. The top four teams go on to the state tournament in early spring. The events cover all kinds of science, including biology, chemistry, and physics.

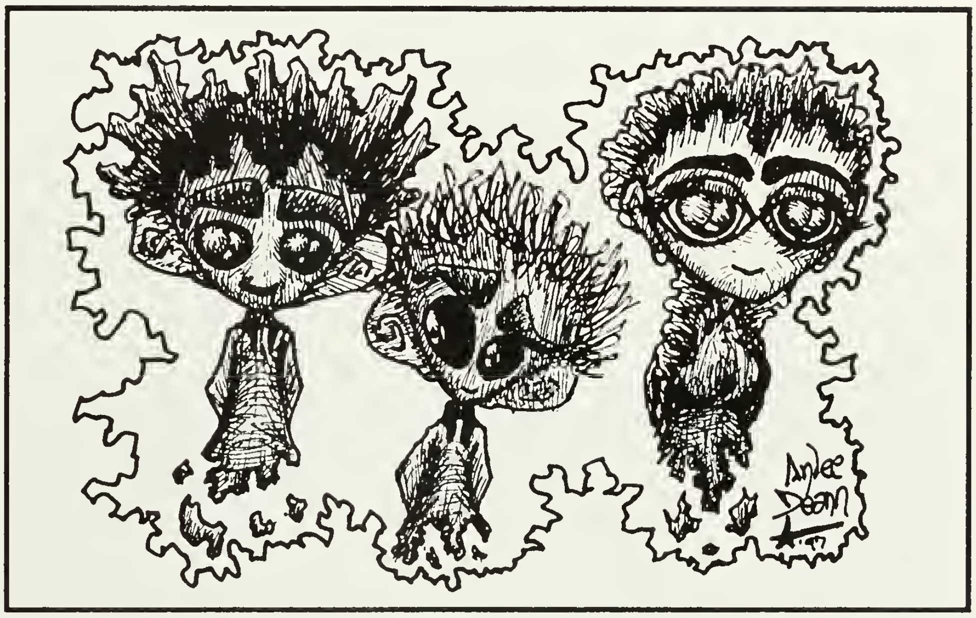
The Sisterhood



Spanish Club

The Spanish Club is a group of students interested in the cultures of Spanish speaking countries. Some members study the language in school, some are native speakers, and a few don't speak Spanish at all. Activities we've done include movies, going to restaurants, cooking ethnic food, making Latin American crafts, and corresponding with pen-pals.

GO WARRIORS!

The Brookline High Sporting News

We want the student body and faculty of Brookline High to know about all the Warrior sports, from field hockey to football to crew. We devote more space to athletics than the other papers. The newspaper can bring people together, and help many students get involved with the school community.

Students Against Driving Drunk (SADD)
We increase awareness in the problems of alcohol and driving by having speakers and discussions on this sensitive subject. We attempt to help people grasp the concept that drunk driving is a reality in America and only education leads to prevention.

Student Alliance Against Racism
We are proud of the diversity we find in our students, teachers, and staff, and we celebrate the value of mutual respect and caring. We cultivate an understanding of all differences. Realizing that diversity can bring conflict, we are committed to open and democratic means of resolving our differences. We believe that our commitment, both to excellence and to respect for diversity, provides the foundation for a good education.

Tap Community

We bring tap dancing to Brookline High School. Beginners through advanced tappers are all welcome.

TOSCOB

The organic scaling club of Brookline. We are nature lovers who enjoy sharing our knowledge and experience with other teens. Through sharing adventures in nature, we aim to bring awareness to many of the issues concerning to our environment and its preservation. We have a great time in the process.

First Light Night

Brookline is known for its rich abundance of cultural options. In the tradition of Brookline creativity, "First Light Night" is a wonderful exhibition by the community. "First Light Night" is held primarily in Coolidge Corner, and local merchants and businesses all over Brookline take part in the festivities. Brookline High School is a main source of entertainment, with performances by the Dance Department and the Drama Society. This year, one of the dance classes performed self-choreographed dances on the crosswalks of Harvard Street while the highschool's band provided the music. The Drama Society decorated the windows of the Bank of Boston with amusing scenes. "First Light Night" is an extraordinary example of the diverse cultural creativity found in Brookline.

dents. Progressions gives danc students the opportunity to prese
the techniques in dances they ha learned. Every year the show h sizzled and popped with the vita ity and energy before the eyes
many. As dance teacher, Christi Polos put it, "Progressions is ve important to the exposure of the d partment and to also show th
fruits of our labor."

"A time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and time to dance."

WALTER SARGENT, ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Brookline High School is fortunate to offer the largest high school athletic program in the state, as wel as the northeastern section of the country. Athletics is a valued part of the Brookline High educationa experience and offers the student body an opportunity to participate in an extremely diverse program. Ou goal has always been to develop excellence in athletics by helping each individual athlete reach their maximum potential.

Many teams have done extremely well winning league championships, as well as athletes who have wo individual honors as league champions, all-scholastics and at least participate in college athletics and w know that they will represent Brookline High School as well.

The Hall of Fame, started in 1994 by Chairman, Mr. Ron Divencenzo and four others on the committe have recognized outstanding Varsity Athletes and former BHS coaches that have made significant contr butions to the Athletic Department at BHS. This committee, consisting of four former athletic graduate includes, Owen Carle, a former school committee member, Jack Heavy, a teacher and coach in Newto Shirley McDonald, a secretary at BHS, and Bill McKeon, an outstanding teacher and coach also at BHS. Als an important contributor to the start of the Hall of Fame is Mr. Walter Sargent, BHS's athletic director. Th inductees into the 1996 Hall of Fame are pictured at right.

B.H.S. CO-ED CROSS COUNTRY

Lev, Kate, & Jon's ODE TO THE RAPTORS

The starting gun went off and our season had begun returning team of veterans and those who had never run.
We trained at the Cape to give us a strong base
Our season was slow but we grew stronger with every race.
Off to Manhattan to find some competition
8,000 runners and the raptors finished in great position
Next step, to Babson College for the league meet with five league all-stars, Brookline became the team to beat
To Rhode Island we traveled to run at Brown
A flat course gave us fast times all around Under torrential rain and through lots of mud we ran Class A despite slipping and sliding, Brookline Girls & Boys blew 'em away
This brings us both to states, for the first time,
at Northfield mountain we had an up-hill climb,
Coming in third for boys and sixth for girls,
as X co-ed team Brookline X-C is the best in the world.

YAY
Thanks Coach G funk and D.C.

Yeah, so the volleyball team may hav a better record, the football team ma have better equipment, the soccer tear may have more fans, but the swim tear has the best athletes. Not to say we a are amazing swimmers (hence the re ord), but our team is made up of the ni est people out there. Just ask Bertucci' It is a common fact that we all hate swir practice, but because of the people (an for some of us, the cheers), we come bac day after grueling day. The swim tear also has to put up with some of the mos revolting things imaginable. We have lost and found affectionately called th cockroach (cock-a-roach) bin, and thos happy insects live everywhere we are Fortunately, they are not the best swimmers. Mondays are extermination day, s practice always starts late. Ah, well! W also have to put up with different scientific experiments pertaining to the ur healthy levels of bacteria in the pool. is a blast! Naked old women, hairball cockroaches, repetitive practices, obnoxious competitors, etc. etc. Yet, despite all, we have a great time. The day we' quit the swim team is the day we se Bobby Fisher stomp and grind. Thank for the memories, and try to have fu without us (one of these years, let's bea Natick)!

Thank you for a great season. Even though our season was longer than most we always stuck together and stayed dedicated throughout. Those of us on the OVT have improved so much in the past year. The freshmen were able to quickly adapt to the routine. We'll never forget the variety of music on our bus rides. And nothing beats the inspiration we got to beat Framingham from those boys in their little white towels. And thanks to our great coach, who can not only coach, but can direct traffic while eating a donut. Good luck next year.

Your Captains,

Kenya — Vanity Smurf, Tim Naehring said Hi to me!
Meghan — Wait, wait this way? Ok I got it. (It's time to make you move)
Jamie — Balloons, hearts, heads, what's the difference?
Christine — Spartan Coaster! WHO, Who let the dogs out!
Morgan — NUMBER ONE!!!, Alexis, you didn't call me Alexis!
Jen — Hatz . . . , I'll go next time
Tanya — This spots mine next year!
Michelle — Tim Naehring said Hi to ME!
Candace — Soul Train, beat, defeat, 'em
Taylor — OK let's go, I am the captain!
Tamika — Don't yell at me! I didn't hear you!
Heather — Spaghetti arms, AAAAshley

We would best describe our feelings for the year in review with a mon ologue from the hit movie Blue Lagoon starring . . . Put down thos coconuts!, !!SUPERSTAR!!, first kiss, Kenya tu hombre, Marie Catherin Gallagher, TO-TOD-TODD, yeah Todd!, Who who let the dogs out arff-arff-arff, Were you barking at us?, Guidos, me, you, you, me?, You'r not the boss of me!, I'm not cheering anymore, Who's that Sparta respecting me?, Golden Princess.

!!WE ARE PROUD OF YOU, WE ARE PROUD OF YOU!!

Thanks Coach Corcoran for all your love and support throughout th past three years, and especially through this year. Thanks girls for a exciting year. I love you, keep up the good work. Good luck next year

Robert J. Weintraub, Ed.D., Headmaster

Saint Augustine wrote, "Let us sing a new song not with our lips but with our lives." The Class of 1997 has brought these words to life. Beginning in the spring of 1996, you decided to create a "Year of Action" so that Brookline High students could give back to their community and make the world a better place. Your work in planning a "Day of Dialogue" was inspiring. You are the first class to ask that we try to understand our diversity and not just pay lip service to it.

I am very proud of the class of 1997. Your accomplishments — in academics, in athletics, in the fine and performing arts, and in community service — have established a powerful legacy of hard work and goodness at Brookline High. I look forward to reading about your leadership in the 21st century.

Dean's Team

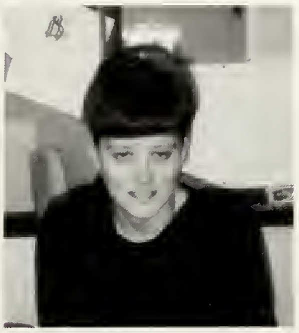
Congratulations to the Class of 1997

Hey Shirley, have you heard the news?

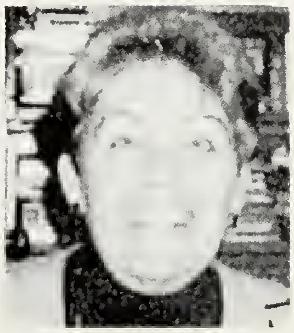
News? What news?

She did it. She finally did it.

I was right! I guess that's why I'm the boss. Time to pay up on those bets, everyone. A handshake is O.K. for now. I know you're all good for it.



No way — she's been saying she'd do it for years. She'll never do it.



I've been trying to do it for years, but they won't let me do it.

Well, she did it, and we saw her do it.

I've given it considerable thought. I believe it is good that she did it.

Well, a friend of mine did it, and let me tell you . . .

I don't blame her at all. I think it's wonderful that she did it.

You go, girl!

But wait a minute. What's Charlie going to do without her?

I say we all sing her a fond farewell . . .
Adios, Amigos, Adios good friend . . .

Alice

Thank You For Your Service!

The class of 1997 remembers the dedicated service of Richard Canney.

Details, Details, Details . . .

Here at Chobee Hoy Associates we continue to keep our eye on all the details in our brokered real estate transactions. And we treat each one with the individual care that has become our service hallmark. So it's no surprise that we're known not only for our results but for the customers we keep.

Whether it's selling your home, helping you buy a new one or locating the income property that will continue to build your future financial security, we attend to the details that can make all the difference.

Our sure grasp of market fundamentals and our intimate knowledge of local neighborhoods, our experience in working with both investors and developers and our broad involvement in many of the Town's boards and commissions can bring the details of any transaction into sharp focus . . . and into successful outcomes for our clients and customers alike.

We didn't become Brookline's leading full-service real estate practice by accident. Rather, through consistently generating the major market share of Brookline's residential transactions, Chobee Hoy Associates has grown to be the dominant force in local area real estate.

Our single office operation offers individual levels of service simply not available in large multi-office agencies. Here, our focus is on long-term customer satisfaction rather than mere sales volume. And with brokers representing more than 150 years' experience in all phases of real estate, we're ready to go to work for you today.

So, call us for the details and the kind of personal service you've always wanted from a broker . . . but were afraid to ask. You'll be glad you did.

Samalices Rodriguez.

In the chaos of daily life, sometimes the students at Brookline High forget to smile. Each one is concerned with colleges, work, the next French test, or a multitude of every day frustrations. Samalices Rodriguez was one of those students. But, according to Samalices's father, she never forgot to smile.

Because of heart problems that Samalices acquired at birth, she was confined to a wheelchair for much of her life. This didn't keep her from enjoying her life to the fullest. Because of the medical problems she suffered, Samalices spent a great portion of her time with doctors and hospitals. However, this only increased her interest in science and math. She loved biology class and aspired to become a doctor so that she could "help people the way my doctors help me."

Samalices was also extremely devoted to her family. She liked to plan the Monday night "family night." This night was set aside each week so that Samalices, her mother and father, and her two younger sisters could spend time together. But other times Samalices asked the family to just stay home and talk. She loved to learn so much that she would come home and teach her youngest sister everything she had learned in school.

Even through the trials that her health caused, Samalices kept up with a daily life that probably paralleled most high school students'. She enjoyed television shows like "I Love Lucy" and "Martin." She showed extreme loyalty to her friends and family with numerous letters. These letters were filled with happiness and joy, and even though she was born sick, she never seemed angry.

Samalices's father described her as angelic. She never complained about her illnesses, even when she was in too much pain to speak. Samalices displayed a mental strength that far outweighed her physical strength. Samalices's mother stated, "She was the weakest one in the family, but she was also the strongest." She tried hard to make it easier for others to deal with her disabilities by keeping a positive attitude. If she was in pain, she tried to keep quiet in order to not disturb a sleeping child or a busy family member. Samalices thought of everybody but herself.

It's hard to move through our lives without complaining about things that seem trivial or minute, because it is those things that make up our life. With the death of Samalices Rodriguez, we take a moment to stop, for we have lost a unique and special person. We have lost someone who, no matter what hardship she was faced with, always remembered to go about her life wearing a smile.

CONGRATULATIONS!

"If education has any single goal it is to encourage people to know how to ask questions and to know how to go about getting the answers."

The Brookline Police Association promotes and applauds the Class of '97.

HOW A COURSE IN HOME EC CAN HELP YOU PAY FOR COLLEGE.

No, not home economics. Brookline Savings Bank's Home Equity Loan.

It's a line of credit that lets you borrow as much as 75% of the equity in your owner-occupied house or condo, less the first mortgage.

Now it's easy to meet those big college bills. Using your line of credit is as simple as writing a check. And, it may be tax deductible.

Because a Home Equity Loan is secured by the equity in your home, the rate is only 1 1/2 points above the prime rate published in the Wall Street Journal.

Take a quick course in home equity at any Brookline Savings branch today. Our customer service reps have all the facts. And all qualified home-owners are sure to pass.

Best Wishes to Class of '97 From Food Center Liquors

"Please Support The Ronald McDonald House"

Congratulations, Steve. Thanks for the time together and all the great memories. You and your classmates have grown in so many ways. You have developed into a responsible, caring, and truly pleasant young man. Your commitment to hard work, family, and friends will carry you forward. You have already heard us say that today is the first day of the rest of your life. Let each day be a fresh opportunity to apply what you have learned the day before, and to add something to the foundation you have already built. We will be there cheering for you.

Dear MJ,

Happiness is made up of a thousand little things,

The joy that comes with knowing someone really understands and takes a special interest in all your hopes and plans.

The talks and time together, that are such a joy to share.

Happiness is made of things like these, that have a way of adding something wonderful to each and every day.

Aspire to make the most of each day, and

Aspire to be an inspiration to others.

For what you are counts more than what you do.

We hope this day brings joy without end.

All the happiness and cheer that you have given us,

Every day throughout the year, plus all the sweetness you have shown.

We wish that this day would be the nicest day that you have ever known!

CONGRATULATIONS, THANKS, AND LOTS OF LOVE,

Jimmy,

When you consider your options for the future, you should consider these words by George Bernard Shaw (made famous by J.F.K.):

"Some men see things as they are and say why?
I dream things that never were and say, why not?"

Keep your head up!

Krista,

Today we share words and beginnings hopes and songs
expectations for the future built from now.

Don't let anyone ever tell you that you're anything less than beautiful.
Don't let anyone ever tell you that you're less than whole.
How could anyone fail to notice that your loving is a miracle;
How deeply you're connected to our souls.

With love and pride
